

HOLIDAY GIFT

Fear not, clueless shopper! These chic locals have tons of cool ideas...

For the book lover: "The Kindle—it's the top-of-the-line e-book reader. The reader can download content from Amazon, as well as the Kindle store. Very cool and eco-friendly." Available at amazon.com, $359.

For the barfly: "A bottle of Lucid absinthe (the real stuff), two crystal low ball glasses, a box of sugar cubes, stainless steel spoon and a butane lighter. Makes for an exciting night at home!" Available at Tower Wine and Spirits, 2161 Piedmont Road NE, $56.99.

ANDREA MOATTAR

Continuing the family business started back in 1966, this vibrant beauty and long-regarded style-maker is co-owner of the Atlanta institution Moattar, Ltd., which provides one of the largest and most unique selection of Persian and antique rugs in the U.S.

WISH LIST

For the bachelor: "A red Gaggia espresso machine. Maybe a hot drink can warm up their cold hearts! As well as accessorize their kitchens..." Available at gaggiashop.com.

For your better half: "Experience Atlanta from a whole new perspective on a helicopter tour. Whitlow, of Peachtree Helicopters, is an Atlanta native and really knows how to customize your flight." (404) 862-6699.

What I'm lusting for this season: "A new Cartier Rose Gold Roadster with a burr wood walnut face. So deluxe!" Available at Cartier, Lenox Square, $39,100.

For the hot little tot: "UGG Australia Infant's Erin Bootie. They are so cute, soft and even come in pink. I wish I had a pair myself!" Available at Neiman Marcus, Lenox Square, $50.

For the pampered pooch: "Tiffany & Co. sterling silver Dog Collar Charm that can be custom monogrammed. For the dog who has everything." Available at Tiffany & Co., Phipps Plaza, $2,050.

For the gadget guru: "A new iPod nano-chromatic in one of the nine amazing colors. The colors alone are enough to make you smile." Available at the Apple Store, Lenox Square, $149 for 8 GB and $199 for 16 GB.
